

INFORMATION ABOUT COMPANY CONTACT DATA PROCESSING during registration

Implementing EU Regulation 2016/679 and current regulations, we hereby provide the following information concerning the processing and protection of your personal data. The collection of contact data is essential in order to register an account. The provision of incorrect or insufficient data may make it completely or partly impossible for us to carry out the Data Subject's requests. In particular, personal data will be processed in order to supply goods or information about goods, to users, linked to the stipulation and fulfilment of the contract for the purchase of materials present on this website.

By "contact data" we mean all information useful to entering into a relationship with the customer/supplier organization through its collaborators.

Said data therefore refers to first name, surname, company e-mail address, of the people who can be contacted within the scope of the current commercial and service relationships and in any case within the scope of all activities between our companies.

We are aware that such data must be used correctly and must be assigned an appropriate level of confidentiality. We have instructed our staff to take due care when processing your contact data, above all to restrict this to the purpose of the commercial and service relationship between our organizations.

Your contact data will not be disclosed outside of our organization except for requirements which we will promptly notify you of in order to obtain your consent. Your contact data will not be disseminated, nor transferred to third countries.

We will definitively erase your contact data at the end of our commercial and service relationships

Please notify us of any non-conforming use of your contact data, send us the appropriate data rectifications when there are changes in your organization, inform your collaborators that they can easily contact us for correct management of their contact data.
